Abstract Of The Disclosure

A method for managing communications between local and remote objects in an object 5 oriented client server system in which a client application invokes a local object as a proxy for a remote object on the server. The local object at the client and the run time environment at the server operate as stubs to form process level calls and returns and avoid byte string level message management.

23